- Send information regarding upcoming events and announcements to info@wbNSEMA.org
- Charitable giving: WBN has more free cash because we are not paying for use of the space at Harbor One Credit Union. Each year WBN gives approximately $500 to a chosen charity. If you are interested in participating on the charitable committee to choose this year's recipient, email info@wbNSEMA.org.
- If you have a question about the 10-minute spotlight speaking opportunities (or to be reminded when your spot is), contact Janine Cavanaugh at Janine@helpfulorganizer.com. You may join a waiting list for a spot, if interested.
- Join the WBN Facebook page!
- A suggestion was made for WBN to have a banner made for display at business and community events/expos and for marching in local parades, as many business organizations do.
- The new WBN blog is a way for members to have another web presence. Submit posts (a few sentences to a small paragraph) to Susan Finn at susan@buttonwoodark.com
- Announcement: The Tri-Town Chamber of Commerce will be hosting a Home and Garden Show on Sunday, March 6, 2011 at the Holiday Inn in Mansfield. It is designed to place local tradesmen in front of local home owners and home buyers. The Chamber is looking for sponsors and exhibitors for the show.
- Acknowledgements were given to members in appreciation for recently-conducted business exchanges.
- This month's member spotlight segments were replaced by something special : members were matched up as partners by pick names from a hat, they chatted together for a few minutes to learn about each other's businesses, and then one introduced the other to the group.

The WBN website: www.wbNSEMA.org is updated regularly. Send updates to info@wbNSEMA.org. Follow conversations, announcements and discussions on LinkedIn and Facebook.
